Behind the record breaking progress that has been made in the physical building of Washington, there has been an unpublicized but nonetheless potent force whose co-ordinated efforts have made all this vast construction possible — the men of the building trades, sub-contractors, material supply houses, tradesmen and artisans — each a specialist in his own field.

In the following pages are the firms who provide the backbone of the building industry of Washington. These are the organizations whose efforts have made possible the great buildings that have been featured in this volume.

Every company participating in this edition has earned the right to do so by virtue of having worked with the builders whose jobs are shown herein.

By performance, each firm in the pages that follow is one who has proved he is financially able, and has the technical ability and know-how to dispatch the work in his respective field with honesty, integrity and efficiency.
