in Newport Shores

OPEN HOUSE: Planned for a family with older children, this sophisticated French provincial home was designed by William Lumpkin, La Jolla, Calif., architect. The builder is Alan F. Scott, Inc. Trend House was the color consultant.

CLOS-TO LOA SEP LOS SECOND FLOOR

UPPER FLOOR: On the upper floor, there are two baths and three extra-large bedrooms in addition to the extralarge walk-in dressing room for the master suite.

In 2-Level House

In Newport Shores, (where there are Venice-like canals as well as waterfront sites for boat owners,) is today's Seattle Times open house but tional lot.

ferent from the several other eral rooms. expensive houses already here.

Alan F. Scott (no relation) is the builder, the design coming from William Lumpkin, La Jolla, Calif., archibrick exterior, with the jacent and space for clothing shingles of the mansard roof in a closet under the stair stained a deeper putty, to the well alcove windows on the upper floor and the high arched wallpaper scene with trees window over the front doubles and parks, goes well with the doors, this house is indeed light fixture, a long cylinder 'different.

side, where the stairway many in various sizes. They in range with double oven, one stair's head is the family bath straight ahead leads to the look like flush doors and have below, one above, and a pull-with an automatic door clos-

2,600 Sq. Feet upper floor, there is a wider-than-average hallway to the rear of the house.

Special doors sent from England, lead from the living and dining rooms to the front patie. The floors are hardwood, stained walnut color. In the living room, the walls are mud-green, a color carried throughout the house with variations in shading.

Used brick for fireplace and it is constructed on a conven- hearth contrasts with the white mantel. In the library, visitors It was John L. Scott, who, will find the first of many looking at the large Bellevue Scott-constructed built - ins. community that faces the east Here, there are book cases, side of Mercer Island south of painted white to contrast with the East Channel Bridge, said, the green walls. There are the "Let us build something com- first of the many ceiling spotpletely different in here, dif-lights used for drama in sev-

BEHIND DOUBLE doors in The result is a French one end of the library is a provincial with mansard small bar, complete with roof and other French desink. The library also has a tails. Scott is the owner, window seat between book cases, a type found upstairs in each of the bedrooms. There is storage underneath. This room could be used as a guest room if necessary because From its putty - colored there is a powder room ad-

In the powder room, a encased in white basketry. The mirror is framed in a CONCRETE - AGGREGATE similar basket-type frame.

squares and planting places. Birch, stained walnut, is that separates the work area Railing the stairs and their to dark.

no hardware but pull open in age space in the rear. stead from underneath.

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

where today's Seattle Times

open house is situated, drive in the Sunset Highway across Mercer Island and on east to the Renton cutoff. There, turn south and proceed almost one mile to the second road leading off to the right. Follow Seattle

Times signs to the community. Hours will be noon

To reach Newport Shores,

YELLOW PLASTIC laminate light is directly over the table square feet of floor space. covers the counters as well as space. A chandelier could be Hours today will be noon to partial backsplash and is used installed easily if desired, how-dark. for the top of the large table ever with a box hedge to come, used on the kitchen cup-from the pantry closet built-boundaries on the upper floor add to the front approach. In-boards, of which there are in Appliances include a drop- is white wrought iron. At the

STORAGE LIBRARY ALL PORTOR 11:41 - 18:4 .2445. FALLE 21:4" = 22'0" LNING TOM BINING BOOM 1716" x 1516" 17:0" $ 15-0 FIRST FLOOR

MAIN FLOOR: The circular traffic pattern, turning from the foyer either way, plus the extra front entry into the utility room, makes every room easy of access. Further, there is accessibility to the front formal patio through French doors.

out ventilator hood. A good ad-ure. White vinyl, terrazo patdition to the kitchen is an ex-tern is used for floor coverings tra closet for family coats of all the baths. White tile covsince it is expected that the ers the tub recess. family often will enter from the garage or the second front entry into the utility room.

The wife of a future buyer surely will appreciate the utility room with its extra space for sewing, ironing or for children's play. She will have built-in birch cupboards here, too.

Inspection of th edouble garage will reveal a heated stor-

In the master suite, the built-in drawers and cubboards in the dressing room are especially commendable. There is 21 feet of hanging space in the closet. Alcove windows add to the bedrooms' design. A corner shower and a long vanity table covered with white plastic laminate are in the master bath.

The home is heated by hot Heath in THE DINING-ROOM spot-160 feet. The house has 2,600 The 1

Carpet, Footprints on Ceiling

000 waste month, H ident and A 39-b

AERIA The H

Inc., and sions wil

building

shop ad plant of ing, Inc. worth of for mis parts. its first

An ad Plating, pleted $240,000 which ma company ing from iature el

HEAT include : research precision the desig special

Co., a sion at has eng