Your records will show that I purchased from you for cash this summer, memorials to the amount of nearly $200.00. The material and workmanship are very good indeed. I saved about $120.00.
R. A. Wilcox,
Kingsley, Mich.

The memorial I ordered of you arrived in five days, well crated, lettering was exact and well done. By comparing size and quality, I figure I have saved at least one-third.

Setting it up was easy by following your instructions and by so doing I am positive it will stand firm and solid for all time.

G. W. Bollman,
Shelby, Ohio

I ordered two small memorials last September and have received them and had them set up. Am very well pleased with them and would recommend them to others who have economy in mind.

Mrs. Louis Fry,
Greensburg, Ind.

I received the cemetery monument in time to have it erected before Decoration Day. I am quite pleased with it, and it is considered by several to be one of the most beautiful monuments in that cemetery.

Thanking you for your prompt delivery.

Mrs. L. E. Taliano,
Willow Grove, Pa.

I purchased a marker from you last August and I am very much pleased with it. I sent in my order and in less than a month my marker was in place at my husband's grave and at a price of about $25.00 less than I would have had to pay at the dealer's here.

Mrs. A. H. Curtis,
Crown Point, Ind.

Within four weeks after my order was sent, I received the monuments in best of condition. Have already erected them. Am very much pleased with your prompt shipment and find the monuments very satisfactory.

According to rates of dealers here, I have saved at least five dollars and at same time have obtained the same grade of marble. I shall be glad to recommend your company to others.

Nicholasville, Ky.

AMERICAN COLORED GRANITES

Below are colored reproductions of Sears three grades of American Colored Granites—American Mahogany, American Dark Gray, and American Red. Note the rich shades of color and handsome crystalline texture of these beautiful "Searscraft" stones. When ordering a monument or marker in "American Colored Granite" be sure to state color wanted.

American Mahogany Granite

American Dark Gray Granite

be accepted as standard and are used for more than ninety per cent of the high grade monuments in the cemeteries in this country.

The cemetery monuments and markers described in this catalog are carved from one or another of the best of all stones for the purpose. We describe them more fully below. Many prices in this catalog have been substantially reduced from our last catalog.

QUALITY AND LASTING BEAUTY

resemble finely polished plate glass in its smoothness. Dark GRANITE is most suitable for polished work, as the polishing brings out the full deep rich color and grain.

GRANITE can be "hammered" or "steeled" to a beautiful smooth surface. The hammered finish is smooth but not polished. It gives a soft, quiet effect that is greatly admired, and brings out carving in beautiful relief. The lighter color produces the more pleasing effect on hammered surfaces, and as light GRANITE hammers out almost white it is usually preferred to the dark for this purpose. Also used for rock faced work.

Southern Gray Granite

For the past few years, Southern Gray Granite has been gaining in popularity with unusual strides. Most of this granite comes from the State of Georgia. This granite is not as hard as New England granite, and can be cut, carved and polished more quickly, hence it is lower in price. For economy in granite memorials it cannot be excelled.

American Colored Granites

SEARS now offer the choice of three of the leading colored granites quarried in the second foremost granite section of the country, which is St. Cloud, Minn. These colored granites are illustrated in natural colors on the special insert herewith. All of our granite memorials can be had in one of these three colors, and when ordering a memorial in "American Colored Granite" be sure to state choice of color. AMERICAN DARK GRAY granite is a very dark, fine grain granite that lends itself to polished memorials and the delicate sand carved ornamentation and lettering featured on all of Sears exclusive designs. AMERICAN MAHOGANY GRANITE is a reddish, chocolate brown colored granite of many hues, very hard in texture, making an exceptionally glossy polished surface and enabling the cutting of very sharp edges. We have sold innumerable monuments and markers in this beautiful stone in our retail stores and its popularity is considerable. AMERICAN RED GRANITE is the famous "St. Cloud Red," used extensively in the monument industry for years. It is a pronounced red in color with black spots of minute size throughout its texture. Its most conspicuous virtue is its hardness and contrast in lettering and carving on polished surfaces.

PRICHARD

There is a simple dignity in the outline and proportions of this noble memorial that is restful and satisfying. In the thoughtful treatment of the surfaces, the designer has produced subdued contrasts of shading that delight the eye. In the simple lines that follow the outline of the main block, there is an air of completeness in keeping with the enduring character of the stone. Choice of two sizes and five grades of Granite.

The main block is glossy polished on the front surface; back is smooth sanded. Top and ends are rough hewn. The floral carving, border and lettering are executed in the most modern, expert manner. The name panel is smooth unpolished. All sides of the broad, substantial base are rough hewn. The beveled top has a smooth, unpolished finish. Our prices include the number of letters and carving as shown. Add 45c for each additional letter desired. Illustration shows the PRICHARD in Gray Granite.

PAYNE You can always be proud of a memorial like the Payne, shown in Gray Granite at left, because of the subtle suggestion of strength, integrity and imperishability that is enhanced by a minimum of embellishment in the general design. HILBERT

No stone is more enduring than Granite, and no Granite is finer in quality, in texture or in durability than that furnished by Sears from America's finest quarries. Only such material is worthy to perpetuate an honored name—to silently guard the family plot—to symbolize the imperishability of a soul. Here in the Hilbert, these requirements are carried out faithfully. Sears not only give you quality that cannot be excelled but supreme value in addition. The Hilbert is shown above in Gray Granite.

The main block is glossy polished on the front surface and smooth-sanded on the back. The curved top and ends are rough-hewn. The floral carving and the name letters are executed in the most modern sand blast style with the smooth-sanded finish in the name panel. CARMINE

Deeply seated in the heart of nearly every one is the desire to mark the spot where rests a loved one who has passed on, in a way that will command reverence and respect. Great comfort will be gained by consecrating such location with a memorial such as the Carmine because it so adequately expresses the thoughtful care and love of the living who were nearest and dearest. The white, unpolished surfaces suggest chastity, dignity and refinement, while Sears prices tell a story of thrifty saving.

The main block is smooth-sanded (unpolished) on front, top and back, presenting an unusually white, clean appearance. The ends are rough-hewn. JEFFERSON

The supremacy of Granite as a memorial material is unquestioned. Its adaptability to various treatments—natural rough stone, smooth sanded or highly polished, has made it the most popular of all stones for this purpose. The Jefferson is a glorious example of the stone worker's art—a combination of the three stone treatments mentioned above revealing splendid harmony and balance combined with unusual artistry in carving.

The main block has artistically curved top and sides fashioned in rough-hewn stone effect. Front face is highly polished. The back and rectangular name panels are smooth and unpolished. Artistic floral design and cross are delicately sandblown and carved. All sides of base are rough-hewn, while beveled top of base is smooth and unpolished. Our prices include the decoration and number of letters as shown. Add 45c for each additional letter. Choice of two sizes and five grades of Granite.

CAMPBELL

The Campbell has distinguished beauty that might well honor the grave of the truly great. Rarely are all the features of this fine Searscraft memorial found in any other one design. Its greater width permits the inclusion of three name panels beneath the family name, which is emphasized by the raised smooth finished top and the appropriate floral decorations at each side.

Face of main block surrounding the smooth-sanded name panels is polished to a glass-like smoothness. Top and back are smooth and unpolished. Sides are rough-hewn. RANDALL

Wherever beautiful memorials are to be found, a predominance of wide tablet monuments is at once noted. These wide horizontal memorials give the impression of unusual stability and strength. The wall-like protection which a memorial of this type seems to convey is emphasized in the Randall. Roman lettering is cut deeply into the stone, throwing each letter into brilliant relief as light from varying angles falls on the stone.

The main block is smooth sanded on all surfaces except the ends, which are rough-hewn. The deeply etched border and twin floral design together with the lettering, are executed in the most modern, expert manner. All four sides of the broad, substantial base are rough-hewn, while the beveled top surface is smooth and unpolished. Sears offer this distinctive memorial in choice of two sizes and five grades of granite. Prices include design and number of letters shown. Add 45c for each additional letter.

PORTMAN

In order to be a fitting tribute to record its message for future generations, a memorial must be chosen with care and extreme discrimination, both as to material and design. The Portman expresses to the utmost the modern trend in memorial design—a stone of character and dignity, which any family might well be proud to have perpetuate a respected name.

Smooth, unpolished name panels contrast pleasingly with the glossy polished face of the main block. The carved Gothic decorations add a subtle, elegant touch. Top and sides are rough-hewn. Back is smooth and unpolished, matching the beveled top of base. All sides of base are rough-hewn. Our price includes number of letters as shown. Add 45c for each additional letter. The finest granites available, a design as modern and choice as any to be had, together with contrasting surfaces and expert artistry, combine to make the Haviland a worthy memorial to stand guard over the final resting place for the ages to come. KEMPER Correctly styled, this beautiful Searscraft creation reflects character and impressive individuality. While artistic and graceful in proportions, it nevertheless denotes the strength and ruggedness so necessary in a tall memorial of this type. The chaste whiteness of its smooth unpolished surfaces provides the perfect setting for the name of an immortalized loved one. The Kemper excels in style and simplicity of design which appeal to any lover of refinement and good taste.

Many prefer memorials with a smooth-sanded unpolished face, and it is to these that the Kemper design will particularly appeal. This treatment is observed not only on the face of the main block, but on top and back as well. Sides are rough-hewn. Top of base is beveled, smooth and unpolished. All four sides are rough-hewn. Price includes floral carving and number of letters shown. Add 45c for each additional letter. The Kemper is offered in two sizes and five grades of Granite.

MOLDSTEAD

Simplicity has been the ideal of the artist in designing the Moldstead, in which it is demonstrated that high polished surfaces are not essential to the perfect memorial. Many, indeed, prefer the white appearance of the smooth-sanded stone to any other. With its rough-hewn sides, the Moldstead reflects quiet strength and permanence and presents one of the finest and most striking memorials in our entire group. The lack of unnecessary ornamentation is especially noticeable.

Only the finest granites to be had are used in Searscraft memorials, and only the finest workmanship is employed in their execution. Front and back of the main block of the Moldstead are smooth-sanded, while top and ends present the rugged rough-hewn appearance. Base has rough-hewn sides and beveled, smooth, unpolished top. DEVERE

The Devere is not considered elaborate, although it has a satisfying, finished appearance that stimulates immediate approval from every observer, particularly those to whom a religious symbol is essential. Note the contrasting smooth-sanded base strip at the bottom of the main block. This treatment softens the break between base and main block, making both parts appear more as a single unit. All carving is executed in the most expert manner. Illustration shows the Devere in Gray Granite.

HAMBLETON

Wherever located, the Hambleton speaks eloquently of an honored name, carrying to future generations a message of simple faith, family love and devotion. It is a glorious example of fine artistry in the unpolished tablet memorial, justifying conclusively the great popularity enjoyed by memorials of this type. In our opinion, one must search far to find a memorial more adaptable to every condition. Its form in imperishable Granite symbolizes the undying character of the soul it immortalizes.

The design and finish of the Hambleton are similar in many respects to the Moldstead opposite, the main differences lying in the treatment of the decoration on the face and the finish of the top of the main block, which in this case is smooth-sanded and unpolished as on the front face and back. Ends are rough-hewn. Sides of base are also rough-hewn, while beveled top of base is smooth-sanded. Our prices include number of letters and carving as shown. WHILE in recent years the use of Granite as a material for memorials has increased in many localities, Vermont Marble is still a favorite because of its crystalline purity of texture and soft beauty of its markings. It is easier to work than granite, and, because of this, less expensive; so a larger and more imposing memorial in marble can be purchased for an equal sum of money. Having decided on a marble memorial, you should have no difficulty in selecting a suitable one from these pages which show a pleasing variety of styles, at prices to suit nearly every purse. Please notice our new policy on lettering—you will save considerable on every stone.

VERMONT MARBLE FOOT STONES

Inexpensive and Attractive

FOOT stones to set at the foot of a grave are never included with our monuments unless ordered. The use of a foot stone is an old custom still followed by many. Some cemeteries forbid their use, permitting only a head stone to be erected. Our advice is to consult your cemetery authorities before ordering a memorial of this type. This precaution may save you considerable unnecessary expense and inconvenience.

Order any three-letter inscription you wish. Our price includes number of letters as shown in the style as illustrated here. Lettering can be put on top of stone if desired.

Foot stones are from 12 inches to 16 inches deep according to size of stone as indicated in the table below. Furnished in Two Colors.

LASTING PORTRAITS ON PORCELAIN

For the Home or for Use on Monuments

WITH the passage of years, ordinary photographs lose their first beauty and freshness and become badly mottled and stained. In many instances the original negative has been destroyed or lost and there is no process by which they can be restored.

Thus, while your photographs taken in years gone by are most highly treasured because of the fond memories that cluster around them, they are usually in such bad condition that hardly a shadow of the original portrait remains.

WILL NOT FADE—EASILY CLEANED

In the past there has been no remedy for this, but by a recently improved process, photographs can be transferred to panels of pure white porcelain on a copper base in such a way that they are practically everlasting. Years of exposure to intense sunlight will not fade them. They are proof against the cold of winter's snow, the moisture from rains, and stains due to chemicals found in the atmosphere. Should they become soiled, a damp cloth cleans them as easily as a china dish.

USED IN THE HOME—OR ON MEMORIALS

In the home, these imperishable porcelain portraits may be hung on the wall exposed to any degree of light or set on an easel and will retain their full beauty unfaded and unstained for centuries.

Many are impelled by a deep desire to place the portrait of a loved one on a memorial along with the inscription to complete the record and awaken fond memories of the departed. These porcelain portraits are ideal for this purpose. We guarantee them to be unfading and imperishable. They are made on a base of copper metal coated on both sides with pure white porcelain and burned in an oven at a very high temperature. In shape they are slightly convex to stiffen them. After repeated coatings and firings, the front or convex surface is sensitized. The picture is then photographically transferred to the porcelain surface. After being made permanent by the latest photographic process, it is burned in by the intense heat of the kiln. The result is a practically imperishable portrait.

WE REPRODUCE ANY PORTRAIT

We reproduce any picture. Of course the better the copy we have to work from, the better portrait we can make. Often our portrait is much superior to the original picture. We cannot, however, guarantee to improve on the original, and we suggest that the best and most life-like portrait obtainable be sent us. We guarantee an exact reproduction of the face, and the likeness will be satisfactory if the picture sent us was itself a satisfactory likeness.

We can make minor changes in portraits such as straightening neckties or removing certain figures in a group, but we prefer to make no changes in the heads or faces, for no matter how skillfully the work may be done the likeness is very easily spoiled.

We set our everlasting porcelain portraits in any of our monuments ordered at the same time, either marble or granite, before shipping, and guarantee them to stay in place. The white margin at the edge of the portrait as shown below is covered by cement which holds it in position, hence the exposed portion is slightly smaller than the size given in the price list. We cut a recess in the monument with undercut edges and the cement holds the portrait so firmly in place that it becomes practically part of the stone itself.

After the porcelain portrait has been made and set, we will return uninjured, all pictures sent us. Always allow us about a week longer on any order for a monument with a portrait. Mark your picture plainly "For Monument Department" and be sure to place your name and address on the back of it.

Bronze Name Plates

This type of marker, which sets flush with the lawn, is becoming increasingly popular, and many cemeteries permit this type to the exclusion of all others, because they are easily seen without interference from adjoining memorials, preserving an unbroken landscape. Bronze is practically imperishable, as it does not rust or deteriorate like other metals. Instead, it becomes covered with a film of soft green that adds materially to its loveliness. Bronze statues exist from Roman times with no impairment of quality. These two styles are among the finest examples of the art, made of special statuary bronze in an appealing burnished gold-like color. Our price includes the decoration and number of letters in style shown. For additional letters, add 45c each. Print lettering plainly. Comes complete with lug bolts for setting marker in foundation. DIRECTIONS FOR SETTING MONUMENTS that are simple and easy to follow

Never allow a crowbar or other metal tool to touch the stone. Protect by placing a wood block between the metal and the stone. Where rough planks rest on stone, place a piece of an old tire or a block of soft wood between them. Move base into place on wooden rollers. Leave crating on to protect it until in final position and then remove it very carefully.

Raise stone with bar protected with wood block or section of old rubber tire and remove bottom boards of crate. Be sure stone sets firm and level on foundation.

The illustration below demonstrates the correct method of raising upper section into position by making an incline of blocks and planks. Protect base with section of old rubber tire and roll into position on wood rollers. Then remove crate carefully.

Place wood block between stone and bar and be sure stone is in the exactly correct position and dowel pins, if any, are properly placed. Raise stone and remove bottom boards of crate and let down gently into position. Be sure that it stands perfectly level and square on base.

Laying the Foundation

THE foundation should be finished and allowed to stand for a week or more before erecting the monument, to permit it to set thoroughly and prevent staining the base. The foundation may be of concrete, stone or brick. Concrete is best, especially for a heavy monument.

Some cemeteries have regulations governing the building of foundations or build them themselves for a stated price. If there are no fixed regulations and you wish to build the foundation yourself, proceed as follows: Dig a hole the width and length of the lower base which is given in the description and from three to five feet deep, according to the weight of the stone.

Concrete Foundation. Make a mixture of one part of cement to four parts of crushed stone or gravel and fill excavation. Finish up the top smooth and perfectly level about one inch below the surface of the ground. Bevel in the upper side about an inch all around so foundation will not show below base.

Stone Foundation. Put in a layer of flat stones or brick. Mix cement and sand in the proportions of one part of cement to two parts of sand and pour in until cracks are filled up level. Put in another layer of stone or brick, pouring in the cement and continue to lay up in courses of stone or brick and cement, until within one inch of surface of ground. Bevel sides in about one inch all around so foundation will not show, and be sure that the top is flat and perfectly level.

Setting the Monument

The methods used in setting marble and granite monuments differ in some respects. Follow the directions which apply to the kind of stone you have. Leave the crating on the stone until the grave is reached and stone up as near in position as possible. In removing crates be very careful that your tools do not strike and mar the stones. As the illustrations will show, removing the crate should be the last operation before setting the stone. In erecting a monument, always use a block of soft wood to protect the stone if there is any danger of metal coming in contact with it, as this may mar or chip it.

Granite Monuments

Move the base into position on the foundation on rollers, using wooden bars if possible. Remove the crate and then test with a level in all directions. If not level, raise where necessary and insert hardwood wedges. The space on the lower side must then be filled with slate or flat stones after the monument is set.

Place a small piece of the wedge lead which is shipped with the stone on each of the four corners of the flat top of base. Place the main block on the base by rolling it up an incline made of blocks and planks as shown in the illustration. Set it in position with wedge lead under each corner. This leaves a space of about one-eighth of an inch between the base and main block. Make sure that the stones are level in all directions and in perfect line from every side. If there is an upper stone, set it in place after first placing small sections of wedge lead on each corner of the main block just as you did on the base.

Now cut a strip of wedge lead of the right length and slip the narrow edge into the joint between the base and the main block. Drive it carefully and evenly into the joint, using a smooth square block of hard wood and a wood mallet. Do not use a steel hammer as it might strike and mar the stone. Drive the wedge lead tightly into the full length of the joints on all four sides of the main block and the top stone also if there is one. Trim the lead off with a knife or chisel and go over it again with a wood block and mallet, driving it in so as to seal all joints completely. This prevents water from entering and freezing, thus avoiding the possibility of the stone shifting or cracking. When completed, wash off finger marks and spots with water, using a brush if necessary.

All our monuments, whether Granite or Marble, are strongly boxed and crated. We guarantee safe delivery without mar or scratch of any kind.

Marble Monuments

Move crated base into position by means of wood bars and rollers. Carefully take off crate, being sure that no metal touches the marble, as it is easily chipped or marred.

Try the base with a level in different directions and if necessary raise one side slightly to level up. Do this by placing thin hard wood wedges under the lower side. After setting up is finished, any open spaces below base should be filled up with flat stones or slate and finished with the cement we ship with the stones.

After setting the base, mix some of the cement shipped with the stone to a thin paste and spread it evenly over the top where the main block is to rest. If the stone is a tall or narrow one, dowel holes are drilled in both base and main block, and metal dowel pins to fit are packed in one of the crates. Partly fill the dowel holes in both the base and main block with the cement and set the dowel pins into position so that they will project about halfway into each stone.

Raise the main block to position on rollers, using an incline made of blocks and planks for this purpose as shown in the illustration. Remove crate carefully and work into correct position with bars protected by soft wood blocks so that the dowel pins in base enter corresponding holes in main block which have already been partly filled with cement. Smaller stones can be easily lifted into position by one or more men. When the cement hardens around the dowels, it holds the blocks firmly together.

Be sure that main block is in perfect line in every direction. Wipe off any cement that squeezes out between the blocks before it has a chance to set or harden. Upper sections if necessary, are added in the same way.

See that the stone is perfectly clean. Rub off all surface cement and wash off dirt and finger marks with water, using a brush if necessary. Remember that marble being a comparatively soft stone, is easily chipped or marred and great care must be taken to protect the corners and edges from contact with steel tools. Use a block of soft wood or a section of an old tire between the tools and stones.

FREIGHT RATES ON MONUMENTS

SO that you may estimate very closely what the freight charges will amount to, we give below the freight rate per hundred pounds on granite and marble monuments from the points where the shops are located, to towns in each state. The freight rate to your town will be very nearly the same as to the town nearest you in this table. We give the average weight of each monument cited in the description so that you can easily figure very closely the freight charges you must pay.

Freight charges are paid by the purchaser but as the rates are comparatively low, the freight you pay will usually amount to very little compared with your saving in price by buying from us.

If there is an agent at your station, do not send us the money for freight but pay it when the shipment arrives. If your station has no agent, write us for the price of the monument you select delivered at your town with freight charges paid.

Inviting THE FULFILLMENT of MAKING GOD'S ACRE MORE BEAUTIFUL . . .

ALL over America in the quiet of the Churchyards, in the park-like splendor of the foremost Cemeteries, Sears Memorials speak eloquently of honored names—simple faith—family love and devotion. Sears Complete Memorial Service affords a wide Memorial Selection of designs, sizes and finishes at prices convenient to every individual requirement.

To assist those who wish to dedicate forever a life now ended or a family name that will live on through many generations, this great organization of long and honorable record has presented this book of beautiful expressions of fine memorial designs to enable the cemetery plot owner to mark the peaceful—beautiful plot in the most harmonious manner.

WE are now pledging a new service which long experience has taught us to render. Large cemetery plots demand a memorial larger and more pretentious than those usually found in this Booklet. Those wishing to properly choose such a stone will be forwarded upon request large, pictorial designs with full description and prices. Illustrations pictured on this page indicate the exceptional value in design and scope of this new departure.

The wide hammered smooth tablet form of large memorial is very popular.

This tall, stately memorial is one of our leading designs.

Massive, substantial and truly appropriate.

ERECTION ASSISTANCE

IN the event the erecting of these memorials will prove a perplexing problem to the purchaser of one of these memorials, our Memorial Department will be pleased to arrange such work with experienced setters in the locality where the cemetery is situated at a reasonable charge.

Serving two purposes—utility and commemoration—this memorial seat is especially desirable.

NEW POLICY SERVICE

IT is essential in requesting the new Designs that location of your Cemetery, size of the plot, type of monument desired, such as Cross monument, low wide polished monument, low wide hammered monument, high polished monument, high hammered monument, Memorial Seat, etc., be included in the request.

The Latin Cross with urns is artistically arranged for impressiveness.

SEARS COMPLETE MEMORIAL SERVICE

The popular all-polished monument for large plots.
