To dig or not to dig:
What is left to discover in San Juan County?

When
Sunday, October 18, 2015
3:00 to 4:30 pm

Where
Eastsound Fire Hall
45 Lavender Lane
Eastsound WA
Phone: 360.376.2331

Admission by donation

Why archaeological research is so rarely performed in San Juan County? How new technologies can make archaeology less intrusive (and more informative); and how we can re-think the goals and utility of archaeology rather than simply being pro or con archaeological research as a whole.

Russel Barsh studied paleontology and law at Harvard and has taught at the University of Washington. He is a founder of Kwiaht, and has lived in the San Juans for a number of years.

For more information contact the Orcas Island Historical Museum at 360-376-4849 or email curator@orcasmuseum.org.